

One Word

By Leah Shosteck

Peace

Driven by the feeling of comfort

Peace

The feeling you get once the music silences, but you don't feel alone

Peace

When you are eating a meal you made with your relatives

Peace

When you fall asleep after a long day's work

Peace

When an inside joke turns into a memory

Peace

When the sound of laughter fills the room with relief

Peace

When you are able to do as you wish without consequences

Peace

Embracing your own imperfectness even when it's hard to be yourself

Peace
